

IN EVERY FORM.....

You know when it comes to you, I never thought I would run out of things to say. That thought changed the moment I was asked to pick my favorite loving memory and/or quality of you, A moment of admiration and/or gratitude and lastly a special memory. Now funnily enough, I'm not out of words I literally have a thousand words because there are thousand and one things of you that I know of that fits those description perfectly, torn between choosing a singular moment is mentally exhausting. I will give it a trial though, I mean I would fail, but I would most definitely give it a trial, that being said.....

Accept this feeble attempt at picking the best of each one.

A loving Memory:

YOU ♥.

A Moment of Admiration and Gratitude:

lol, gratitude? Towards you? I think that's mostly what I've felt for you since 2021. Grateful for all the times you came through for me, for all the times you pulled me out of a gunk, you referred to me as your Support System, I find that ironic because for the longest of time you've been the one playing the super supportive person, most of the time I don't even have to ask, I love how willing and selfless you get, I'll love to delude myself into thinking I'm the special one and the only one that gets to experience that bit of you, but that would just be an outright stupid lie, that's just your person, it's not a 'special' treat to anybody in particular, you're just naturally selfless, it's always a beautiful sight, it's tearfully admirable, it's one of the reasons why I know I'll never stop looking at you with a smile... I could go on to talk about how I admire your ambition, your success driven mindset, your academic drive as well as its excellence But man I'm trying to stick to instructions here, also we have the rest of our lives for you to always see me look at you with utmost admiration.

A special Memory:

I think I laughed way too hard at this one, special moment with Ngozi? Or was it memory it said, Tough... even our fights are special, because tell me who says "if you leave my house I'll stab myself" in the 21st century? Was it a crazy scary moment? Yes! it was absolutely, but! It was lowkey still beautiful... anyways, i don't think that's the 'special' moment I want to talk about, I want you to read through this smiling all through, today should be all about reminding you of beautiful times, well that and adding a promise of trying not to be a cause of sadness to you again. Memories huh, I think I'll go with two here, yep! fuck instructions. First time I saw you, 500lt I was exhausted from the long walk down from FMS to that place, scrambling for a seat and Jon that bastard wanted to be politically inclusive, at the expense of my strength, he said “make we go see osamagbe ask am how e dey push him election matter”, had never seen you before this time, but all that was about to change, I saw you immediately we got to his seat, you didn’t even bother to take note of the arrival of new presence, you were just so engrossed in the car race you were playing, we sat down behind two of you, my eyes were fixated on your blue denim shirt(that was all I could really see) I would have ignored you, I hadn’t seen how pretty the face was yet afterall, but the scent from you was too good to ignore, and for the first time in the 5mins myself and jon had been there I added to his and Osamagbe’s conversation, and it wasn’t even about politics I just needed to know who this female with this beautiful scent was, he said and I quote “na my woman” lol, so glad he said that, because it was an ego booster for me, if she was his woman with the way he looked, I most certainly could talk to her, tapped you, you did a slow turn, you were hell bent on keeping your eyes on the game I’m not quite sure you saw my face that day, but you were at least polite enough to tilt your head a little to return my ‘hi’. Why’s this a special moment or in my top most special moment of you? It was the moment that introduced us. Don’t worry the other memory I’ll summarize in one sentence... the first time I ate a meal you made, not saying more than that....

A little add on, we’ve only created a thousand and one of each of these moments, let’s not stop till we at least hit a million of each. Also I hope today would only create special lovely memories.
